ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to thank the Canadian Council of Archives for the special project-funding which made compilation of this supplement to the British Columbia Thesaurus possible, and the Archives Association of B.C. for its support and interest in the project.

Thanks are also due to the municipal and community archivists who supported this endeavour; they gave me valuable feedback about the B.C. Thesaurus, and specific practical suggestions for improving and adding to it. This supplement is certainly the beneficiary of their experience applying the B.C. Thesaurus "under field conditions".

Finally, I would like to acknowledge the initiatives of Jim Burrows, in conceiving of the project, and in canvassing the archives community to determine the level of support for it.

TECHNICAL INFORMATION

This is a supplement to the draft Version 1.0 of the B.C. Thesaurus. It was not within the scope of this project either to undertake revision of the B.C. Thesaurus as a whole, or to merge this supplement with Version 1.0. The supplement should be regarded as an amplification of Version 1.0, which provides greater detail in indexing terms of relevance to local and municipal archives.

It is expected that merger of the supplement with the main B.C. Thesaurus will be practical whenever comprehensive revision of Version 1.0 can be undertaken. In order to expedite the process of feedback which will make revision and improvement possible, an update/suggestion form follows this page. Thesaurus users are urged to make copies of the form as needed, to register their suggestions.

The Municipal and Local Terms Supplement is the property of the Archives Association of B.C., for purposes of citation, further development, and eventual publication. Therefore any comments, suggestions or inquiries about this Supplement, or about the B.C. Thesaurus should be addressed to:

INTRODUCTION/MANUAL

OBJECTIVES: This addendum to the B.C. Thesaurus was undertaken to provide a richer vocabulary of subject indexing terms for use in local and municipal archives. Consultation with archivists indicated there was a desire to provide improved access to manuscript materials, and to explore the possibilities of providing some level of subject access to active and archival municipal government records. The addendum offers then, new vocabulary in three areas:

a) additions to hierarchies already established in the draft of Version 1.0 of the B.C. Thesaurus, particularly in the areas of typical local events, community organizations, and small businesses.

b) development of terms for municipal services, functions and governmental structures. Since municipal administrations may vary considerably in their particular structures, a level of flexibility had to be built into the controlled vocabulary. To that end, a number of "building block" hierarchies were developed. (see Manual following)

c) development of a controlled vocabulary for documentary forms and genres. The DOCUMENTS hierarchy, although not itself a subject access authority, will allow subject-indexing with "form" and "genre" cross references. For purposes of this project, effort was concentrated on identifying documents produced by municipal governments. The DOCUMENTS hierarchy does not explore the more technical area of non-textual materials to any depth.

LIMITATIONS: Revision of Version 1.0 as a whole was not within the scope of this project; however it became clear that revision of some hierarchies would be necessary if the project was to respond to the needs of local and municipal archivists. Therefore the end product is not a discreet item without implications for the existing B.C. Thesaurus. It is also not possible at this point, to merge the two documents, since revision of the whole of Version 1.0 must precede any merger. The issue of using the addendum in concert with the B.C. Thesaurus is addressed further below.

PRODUCT: The Addendum includes 27 revised hierarchies and 18 new hierarchies. Its format is the same as that of Version 1.0, but the order of displays has been reversed, so that the Top Term list and Hierarchical displays now precede the Alphabetical display. It is hoped this will allow the user to understand the entire scope of the hierarchies before tackling the alphabetical section.
USING THE ADDENDUM

For general instructions on the layout and use of the Thesaurus, users should consult the Manual on page 1 of the B.C. Thesaurus. What follow here are instructions and notes pertinent to the Addendum alone.

RELATIONSHIP TO B.C. THESAURUS: Until Version 1.0 as a whole is revised, the existence of two versions of some hierarchies presents a problem. Some of the new hierarchies absorbed small hierarchies or floating terms found in Version 1.0. And although many of the new terms added to existing hierarchies do not alter the relationships between words, some hierarchies had to be restructured. The interim rule then for use of the two authorities is WHERE THERE IS A CONFLICT BETWEEN THE TWO, PREFER THE ADDENDUM TO VERSION 1.0. In practice, since the selected term is used out of its structural context anyway, the difference between the B.C. Thesaurus and the addendum should cause little difficulty to the indexer.

REVISED HIERARCHIES: Any hierarchy which has been revised is shown in the `Hierarchical Display' section of the Addendum. However, some large hierarchies - notably BUILDINGS and SERVICES - were only revised in selected sections. In such cases, only the revised section is included, and the user must refer to Version 1.0 for the rest of the hierarchical display. Otherwise, revised hierarchies are shown in their entirety, even if the revision involved nothing more than the simple addition of a few terms. By contrast, an effort has been made to include only new terms in the Alphabetical Display, except where revision of a hierarchy (e.g. SCHOOLS, ORGANIZATIONS, RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES) affected the relationships between most of the words retained from Version 1.0. USERS SHOULD EXPECT TO USE BOTH VERSION 1.0 AND THE ADDENDUM TOGETHER WHEN UNDERTAKING INDEXING PROJECTS.

NON-SUBJECT TERMS: Terms in the DOCUMENTS and FUNCTIONS hierarchies are most likely to be used in descriptive fields other than the subject access area. They are provided in this vocabulary to extend the concept of the "controlled" vocabulary to areas which enhance and support subject access. Few of the archival institutions consulted had undertaken subject indexing of municipal records to any degree, but most felt that indexing of selected series and/or documentary genres would make materials such as bylaws, minutes, reports, and public hearing briefs more accessible to researchers. Therefore the "genre" and "functional" cross-reference vocabulary is practical, particularly with automated description.

CONSTRUCTING MODIFIED DESCRIPTORS: Several hierarchies have been designed to facilitate the construction of modified descriptors, to suit the particular needs of a wide variety of local administrations. They are as follows:

ADMINISTRATIVE GROUPS
BUREAUCRATIC UNITS
FUNCTIONS

as well as many terms in

PERSONS
Although terms in these hierarchies are most often presented in the plural form, use of the singular form is allowed. The indexer can then construct a term like RACISM COMMISSION (or COMMISSION ON RACISM) by taking RACISM from the SOCIAL ISSUES hierarchy, and the singular form COMMISSION from the ADMINISTRATIVE GROUPS hierarchy. The preferred order should be dictated by local usage. One city's FINANCE DIRECTOR may be another's DIRECTOR OF FINANCE. "Species" terms supplied in the addendum in the "building block" hierarchies may be viewed as typical examples of the terms which can be constructed. INDEXERS USING MODIFIED DESCRIPTORS MUST MAINTAIN THEIR OWN AUTHORITY LISTS OF ALL SUCH TERMS IN USE.

BROADER TERM INDICATORS: A number of hierarchies are divided into "species" according to two or more criteria. For example. DOCUMENTS are categorized as to genre, style of data presentation, function, provenance, and so on. Yet there is no term as such to sort the "sub-genuses". In complex hierarchies then, there is a convention not employed in the B.C. Thesaurus, to inform the user which part of the hierarchy supplies the term being considered. An example follows:

LISTS
BT DOCUMENTS (by style of data presentation)

The bracketed material does not form part of the term DOCUMENTS, but will lead the user to the correct section of the hierarchy, if he/she would like to search for other like terms. Note — where terms are followed by CAPITALIZED bracketed material, as for homographs, then the bracket does form part of the term.

MAINTENANCE OF THE THESAURUS: Users of this Thesaurus and Addendum are its best advisors. Please make note of needed terms not available, and any suggestions for lead-in vocabulary or relational indicators (to connect related hierarchies), and submit them on the sheet provided at the beginning of this volume.
